Career and Business Transactions Application Project

Scenario: You and your classmates have just returned from a college job fair event where numerous Human Services-related occupational careers were represented. Upon returning to the classroom, your teacher divides the class into groups and has each group determine:

- how business transactions are initiated
- methods of placing orders for customers and supplies

On the line below, write down the career listed on the card you selected and the Human Services Careers Pathway it pertains to. Example: Cosmetologists - Personal Care Services Pathway.

Task: As a group, create and present a five- to seven-minute oral presentation to the class. The presentation must include:

- Provide information about how business transactions are initiated and methods of placing orders for customers and supplies within the career you selected
- Use at least one prop
- The conclusion will include a demonstration of at least one appropriate way to communicate with clients to produce satisfying customer service and business success
- Written summary of your project

Project will be assessed with Rubric for Oral Presentation.
