

Career Investigation Reflection

Instructions: Write a reflection based on the career research in the Career Investigation assignment. Use the following guiding questions to write your reflection:

- What new career paths did you discover that you had never thought of before?
- How did the chosen profession match your current interests?
- How can this information help you towards your career path?
- How can you use this information in the future?

Use the Career Investigation Reflection Rubric provided as a guide when writing the reflection.

Organize your notes below:

The form consists of four identical horizontal arrows pointing to the right. Each arrow has a rounded rectangular box on its left side, intended for students to write their notes. The arrows are stacked vertically, one above the other.
