

Children's Book Project

Book Title:

You may work individually or collaboratively in teams of two to create a story. It will focus on moral and character development appropriate for a specific grade level.

The storybook should include:

- a story in a “book” format which should promote a positive character trait of your choice as the main focus of the story
- appropriate content written for a specific grade level audience chosen by the author and/or illustrator
- a front and back cover and a title/credit page
- a title page with the title of the story, moral, appropriate grade level and the author/illustrator’s name(s)
- text and graphics which are either drawn by hand or computer generated
- neat and colorful illustrations that relate to the story page
- an interesting narrative that holds the reader’s attention
- correct grammar, spelling and punctuation
- at least two distinct character voices
- professional appearance
- story lasts 5 to 7 minutes

You will be assessed with the Rubric for Storytelling.
